Doctoral students may pursue a minor in another department to complement their Ph.D. program. The minor should represent a program of graduate quality and depth, including core requirements and electives or examinations. The department offering the minor establishes the core and examination requirements. Elective courses are planned in conjunction with the minor department and the Ph.D. department.

The minimum University requirement for a Ph.D. minor is 20 units of course work at the 200+ level. (If the minor department chooses to require passing of the Ph.D. qualifying or field examinations, the unit requirement may be reduced.) All of the course work for a minor must be done at Stanford. Courses used for a minor may not also be used to meet requirements for a master's degree. The Application for Ph.D. Minor should be filed in the Ph.D. department with the Application for Candidacy.
